

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY POLICY

All handouts and written materials provided to students as part of the Documenting Hope Parent and Health Coach Training Program (the "Training Program") are the exclusive property of Documenting Hope.

Documenting Hope grants permissions to use certain copyrighted materials exclusively to students who are currently enrolled in the Training Program, and to graduates who have successfully completed the program ("Eligible Users").

All materials included in the "Client Forms" section of the Documenting Hope online course, [<https://documentinghope.com/ea-health-coach-forms-library/>] are intended for use by Eligible Users as follows:

1. Eligible Users may print and distribute paper copies of Documenting Hope's handouts downloaded from the "Forms" section of the online course, or transmit via email or other electronic means to individual recipients. These documents may be provided to any private audience, provided that the Form is not altered or edited in any way, and retains the Documenting Hope copyright notice and web address in the footer of the document.
2. Eligible Users may NOT publish Documenting Hope copyrighted material in any online forum. Eligible Users also may NOT display Documenting Hope copyrighted material in any public television or video forum.